

LISA BERNAL BRETHOUR

Ceramics, Sculpture, and Mixed Media

Lisa Bernal Brethour is a 3rd generation Arizonan who grew up in Tucson and has lived with her family in Tempe for the past 22 years. The daughter of a photographer and a stained glass artist, Lisa is a visual artist who works primarily in ceramics and street painting with pastels. She also enjoys sewing, painting and creating sculptural works. Lisa's work is influenced by the colors and patterns of her paternal Mexican heritage and also by her maternal grandmother's collection of botanical prints and arts & crafts objects. Her work focuses on personal relationships and the interdependency between nature and people, the belief that we are all connected.

Facebook Page: Lisa Bernal Brethour

"I want my students to know that they can create anything; everything is possible!"

