

CDC 201

Still Life and Interior:

Drawing from still life objects and interior with perspective.

Course Description:

In this class the student is introduced to drawing still life, more specifically, taking the next step to translate a colorful world into a black and white world, while beginning to make strong compositions of their own. This class also features the basics of perspective, and how this is incorporated into still life and interiors.