

CPC 301: Portrait Painting

Following a similar structure to the drawing portrait class, students will use what they have learned to create solid, well composed portraiture in color. Students will work alla prima, and develop the stamina for longer more completed formal portraits.

