Robert Moore Oil Painting Workshop

Once again the workshop will be held at Robert's studio in Declo, Idaho. The building is over 10,000 sf with a gallery space, workshop, office space and painting studio. The painting studio itself is about 3,000 sf with good ventilation and plenty of natural north light. Studio easels, glass palette, and tables will be provided for in-studio painting.

The workshop schedule will be much like in the past: Five intensive days, Monday through Thursday, 9:00am-4:00pm and 7:00pm-10:00pm with a balance of classroom type instruction, personal critique and painting opportunities. On Friday class will end in the afternoon.

Registration will begin at Robert's studio in Declo at 8:30 am on Monday. Please arrive promptly so instruction can begin by 9:00.

Weather permitting, there will be an optional day of plein air painting. You can expect the weather in South Central Idaho to be something unexpected. Sunny skies with temperatures in the 60's or 70's are likely, but wind, rain and even snow are all possible. Pack for flexibility.

For your convenience, a minimal selection of gessoed masonite painting boards in selected sizes (6x8, 8x10 to 16x20) will be available for purchase during the workshops. Otherwise, Michael's (the closest retail art supply store) is in Twin Falls, about 48 miles away.

We look forward to your arrival!
